LOVE ORCHESTRAL MUSIC BUT ALWAYS WISHED YOU COULD GET CLOSER TO THE ACTION?

OR PERHAPS YOU'VE NEVER BEEN TO A CLASSICAL CONCERT BEFORE?

Either way, this special event is for you... and your kids.

100 top musicians play one of the most thrilling and explosive musical creations of the 20th century, Stravinsky's The Rite of Spring, and you are invited to sit or stand within touching distance... or walk around, seeing and hearing the music from any angle you choose.

The concert starts with an interactive introduction from conductor Tom Seligman, taking you on a journey to the heart of this ground-breaking ballet score. You'll hear how the music is put together and get a fascinating glimpse of the inner workings of an orchestra playing at full tilt.

After the concert, enjoy cake, tea & soft drinks... and mingle with the musicians.

Suitable for all ages, from 7 upwards... This could be the moment your child is hooked on the excitement of playing an instrument in an orchestra - or the first time you get to experience live classical music without having to sit motionless in a hushed concert hall!
